Local Baseball Club Organize For 1930.

On Tuesday evening about twenty baseball enthusiasts gathered at the C.P.R. Station to elect officers and make plans for the coming year.

The main topic of the evening was that of building a high board fence around the two sides of the infield. After a lengthy discussion a committee composed of C. E. Reiber, Jim Caithness, and Tom Sharman were appointed to get all details re the cost and position of the fence. Many other minor business items were discussed.

The result of the election of officers: Pres. J. S. McCloy; Vice Pres. Hugh Lee; Sec.-Treas. W. McFarquhar. Ex. Comm: Charlie Cook, Ward Keith and Tom Sharman. Grounds Com.: C. E. Reiber, Jim Caithness and Tom Sharman. Manager: C. E. Reiber. Representatives to Rosebud League Meeting: J. S. McCloy and Hugh Lee.

Judging by the possible players mentioned at the meeting, Didsbury can look forward to a real season of base ball.

The death of Mrs. Lilian Steele occurred at the Didsbury hospital on Tuesday, April 1st. Mrs. Steele whose home was at Alsask, Sask., has been attending the Bible School here during the winter.

The funeral services will be held at the Mennonite Church on Friday, April 4th, at 2.30.

It is with deep regret that we record the death of Eva Doreen Wilson, the thirteen months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Wilson of Olds, which occurred at the Holy Cross Hospital, Calgary, on Wednesday morning last. M.B.C. Conference and Bible School Commencement.

The annual Conference and the Commencement took place in Didsbury during the week of March 18-25. The Conference opened with a Sunday School convention on Tuesday, followed by a Holiness Convention on Wednesday. These days were very well attended and the topics were very interesting. On Thursday the conference convened and was in session until Saturday evening. On Wednesday night the Bible School chorus composed of 40 voices rendered a beautiful program of sacred songs. The large crowd manifested its appreciation by giving splendid attention throughout the entire service. Friday evening a service was given by the Graduating class on the theme presented in the class motto "Christ Pre-Eminent." These young people are to be commended for the ability with which each rendered his part, they are indeed a credit to the Bible School.

Sunday afternoon, the Baccalaureate message was ably delivered by Rev. Roppel, pastor of the Evangelical church.

The weeks activities closed with the Commencement service on Tuesday night, when the graduating class, led by the Faculty marched into the church to the strains of "Lead On, O King Eternal," played by Miss Myra Herber. After listening to an inspiring address by Rev. Marr of Calgary, Rev. Traub, president of the Bible School presented the following graduates with the three year Diploma, Ernest Traub, John Loewen, Anna Neufeld, Beulah Lachman, Emma Brown.

This Conference was one of the best the church has had. There were many visitors who attended, and they were cared for by the good people of the church, meals being served in the fine new basement which was built last year. The commodious auditorium was filled more than once as the people gathered in. The attendance of visitors from afar was very much appreciated, as was also the interest and presence of friends of the local community.

The Bible School has now closed for the summer, but will re-open the first of November. We feel sure that if any of the young people of this locality find it possible to attend the School for a few months in the winter, they will receive a hearty welcome, and will be greatly benefited by the time spent in the School.—Contributed.

Canada and War

Canadians unquestionably are deeply interested in the Five Power naval parley now in progress in London. They are really anxious that it should have a successful outcome, and that as a result there shall be not only further reduction in naval armaments, but a new and better understanding established between the great naval powers.

Canada, considering its size, geographical position, population and wealth, spends less on defence or preparation for war than any other country in the world. To all intents and purposes, Canada is and has been disarmed. If other nations maintained armies and navies proportionate to population and wealth reduced to the Canadian scale, the whole world could be said to be disarmed.

Yet Canada knows what war means. During the years 1914-1918, the people of this Dominion learned the bitter lesson of war's tragedies, and each succeeding year, since 1918, has only served to emphasize that lesson. Canada paid in the loss of its young manhood, in its army of wounded, many maimed and crippled for life or permanently undermined in health. Canada paid then, is paying now, and will continue to pay for many years to come, in dollars and cents for the huge cost of war and war's destruction.

Even so, it is doubtful if the average Canadian realizes what war, even preparation for war, actually means to this old world. As already stated, Canada's annual expenditure for war purposes,—that is, aside from the burden imposed by the Great War for which our people were in no sense responsible, but participation in which was a duty forced upon us,—is slight, almost negligible, a very small percentage of our total annual expenditure as a nation. But this is not true of all other great nations, and most of the small and minor nations.

For example, the United States, removed from the dangers and complexities of European entanglements, and largely occupying a position of isolation, spends on its armament budget a larger sum annually than any other country in the world, although the percentage of its total income so expended is smaller than in other countries. And it is a startling fact that the amount so expended is increasing. In the four years before the Great War the average annual expenditure of the United States on armaments was $460,000,000. Ten years later it had risen to $879,000,000. If Canada followed the example of European nations, we, too, would be spending a crushing amount merely because our next door neighbor is doing so.

In 1913, before the war, Great Britain's armament expenditure was just under $400,000,000. Last year it was $575,000,000. Every one of the Great Powers, except Germany, which was compulsorily disarmed, is spending much more today on armaments than was spent before the Great War. And this despite the League of Nations, the Kellogg Peace Pact, and treaties galore pledging the nations not to engage in offensive warfare.

Great Britain spent $50,000,000,000 on its part in the colossal tragedy of the Great War. It left Great Britain with a war debt of over $35,000,000,000. Interest on that sum calls for $1,730,000,000 a year. For debt purposes alone Great Britain has to raise by taxation $5,000,000 a day, or $3,000 every minute. It takes the whole time labor of 2,000,000 workers year in and year out to pay the annual cost of the debt burden. Add to this the $575,000,000 spent annually on armaments, and $280,000,000 for pensions, and a total of $2,600,000,000, or $5,000 a minute has to be raised by taxation, or three-quarters of the whole amount of all Government expenditures. Is it any wonder there is business depression and unemployment in the British Isles?

If the London Naval Conference is successful in part only, namely, the matter of what are termed "Capital" ships, the saving to three countries alone, Great Britain, United States and Japan, will amount to $1,000,000,000, or twice the total annual expenditure of the Government of Canada for all purposes. Or put it another way, if Manitoba could take into the treasury of the Province the sum saved when construction of but one 10,000 ton cruiser is cancelled, not only would all Manitoba's bills be paid for an entire year, but a surplus of $3,000,000 would remain on hand.

Apart from all humanitarian, Christian reasons for disarmament, the above figures indicate the economic dollars-and-cents aspect of this great problem.

Canada paid, and is paying for war; let us pay and pay generously and ungrudgingly for peace by supporting the League of Nations with all our power. Every individual Canadian, man, woman and child, should be a peace advocate, an unqualified supporter of the League, and full Canadian participation in the League. They should unitedly pray for the success of the London conference.

Indigestion

What most people call indigestion is usually excess acid in the stomach. The food has soured. The instant remedy is an alkali which neutralizes acids. But don't use crude helps. Use what your doctor would advise. The best help is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. For the 50 years since its invention it has remained standard with physicians. You will find nothing else so quick in its effect, so harmless, so efficient.

One tasteless spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in acid. The results are immediate, with no bad after-effects. Once you learn this fact, you will never deal with excess acid in the crude ways. Go learn—now—why this method is supreme.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any drugstore.

May Use Pulverized Coal

B.C. Department Of Mines Investigating Its Advantages

The British Columbia Department of Mines, fully aware of the difficulty which the coal industry has been facing, has been making investigations into the uses and advantages of pulverized coal, and has secured the assistance of the fuel research laboratory at Ottawa. In an address before the Vancouver Chamber of Mines, J. D. Galloway, provincial mineralogist, expressed the opinion that if pulverized coal were used properly there would be no excuse for the importation from California into British Columbia of a single barrel of fuel oil. British Columbia produced 2,313,900 tons of coal last year. Of this, about 140,000 tons were used in pulverized form in various industries. The Vancouver Province says it seems highly probable that if the uses and advantages of pulverized coal and the facilities for using it were brought more forcibly to the attention of the people of the province, a better day might dawn for one of British Columbia's important industries.

Too Little Blood the Trouble

Restored Health

"I am writing to tell you," says Mrs. James A. Haughn, Bridgewater, N.S., "the great health benefit I received through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I had become badly run down and very weak; so much so that I could only with difficulty do my housework. I suffered from headaches, and had very little desire for meals. The trouble affected my nerves, and as a result I did not sleep well at night; and would often awake with a choking sensation, and would have to sit up in bed. I was taking treatment, but it did not help me and I was losing courage, when I saw an advertisement of a case which seemed much like my own, which had been relieved by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I decided to give this medicine a trial and got two boxes. Before these were all gone there was an improvement in my appetite, which seemed a hopeful sign. I procured a further supply of the pills and found a steady improvement in my health. I could eat well, sleep soundly at night, and my housework was no longer a task beyond my strength. From my own experience I would advise weak, run-down people to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial, feeling that what they have done for me, they will just as readily do in other similar cases."

If you will send your name and address to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., a little book, "Building Up the Blood," will be mailed you prepaid. This little book contains many useful health hints.

You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Romans Constructed Roads Which Are Still In Use After A Lapse of Twenty Centuries

The first builders of roads were the best. The main highways across Europe, many of them still in use after 2,000 years, remain as monuments to the supreme mechanical genius of the old Romans. Not only did they plan their roads on the principle that the straight line is the shortest between two points, but they built them so well that, with minor changes, the modern cities of Europe still depend upon them for their communication by automobile.

The English word "road" probably comes from the Old English rad, compounded from a verb meaning to ride a horse, while our word "street" comes from the Latin strata, a paved way, one of those streets of beautifully matched stones which the modern traveller may still see, with the ruts made by the chariot wheels of the vanished citizens in Pompeii and Herculaneum.

When the Romans set out to conquer the whole known world of their day, their practical mind came to their assistance, and they built as the long arm of their conquests spread around the shores of the Mediterranean, permanent highways throughout their empire, primarily for the swift and safe movement of their troops throughout all the countries they conquered.

Their first principle was to draw a straight line between their most important camps. The Apian Way, which was begun in 312 B.C., one of their greatest achievements, extended throughout the length of the Italian peninsula from the Forum in the Eternal City itself to Brindisi, from which the legions embarked on their journeys to the east. The pillar set up by Pompey to mark the southern extremity of the great road may still be seen in the modern city.

The Romans built their roads by first cutting parallel trenches through the soil to indicate the width of the roadway, removing loose earth until a solid foundation was reached. Upon this four layers of materials were beaten down, the lowest usually of flat stone sometimes laid in mortar, above which a layer of coarse concrete of smashed stones was superposed. Above this was a layer of finer stones or concrete, on which was laid a surface of fine stones carefully matched. The width of some of their roads was 14 feet, on each side of which were unpaved roadways half as wide again.

These great roads, which spread out fanwise from the great city which gave the empire its name, were kept in repair long after the legions had passed into dust, and influenced, to an important degree, the rise and growth of trade routes and the cities which supplanted the "castra" of the Roman soldiers.

Any one who has motored in France will be grateful to the genius of those old Romans in planning their military roads—later to be repaired and lined with trees by Napoleon for his legions—remembering the tortuous and winding roads of this country which have perpetuated in concrete the wanderings of prehistoric cows of the early American colonists. Wherever the road in Europe straightens and aims for a distant star, the motorist may be sure that his car is following the path of that great empire of Rome.

In Paris, few motorists realize that the long, straight line of the Boulevard St. Michel is the old Roman road to the south, and the Boulevard Sebastopol, its continuation to the Roman cities of the north. And the motorist leaving London on the Great North road passes over a highway laid out by the legions who pushed their conquests as far as the Great Wall.

Every road map of England shows tiny dotted lines where, in the course of centuries, in spite of the growth of the villages and the fluctuation in importance of the market towns, the old Roman road still exists, sometimes as a mere cart track, and at others merely a line of hedges, still standing as a monument of the busy life which passed away before even William the Conqueror gathered his armies across the channel.

The excavations for the huge buildings which London is now substituting for the older ones of a London of rumbling wagons and hansom cabs still turn up remains of the Roman city. A milestone of the Roman road still exists and has been preserved as a venerable memorial of the town which grew along the Thames, centre of long, straight roads leading over moor and heath to the limits of the islands of the fair-haired Anglii.

One of these roads, long after its first pagan travellers had passed into the dusk of Imperial Rome, came into a new life as the highway over which Chaucer's pilgrims went piously to the shrine of the most famous saint of medieval England, St. Thomas, in the great church in Canterbury. —New York Times.

Stick To Old Fashion

Men Adverse To Making Any Change In Style Of Clothing

Women's styles undergo drastic changes with amazing rapidity, as their husbands' pocketbooks can testify, but men's fashions have remained much the same throughout the centuries, despite attempts to make them more comfortable or more beautiful. According to Fraulein Helene Dille, of Berlin, who is an authority on the subject, physicians have been trying to make men reform their styles for centuries, but the males stubbornly cling to their tight collars, and belts and heavy suits.

Canadian Colonization Association Settles 427 Families In Alberta

Alberta led the western provinces in the number of successful farm placements made in 1929 by the Canadian Colonization Association, when a total of 427 families were settled on 50,803 acres, said W. R. Dick, superintendent of land settlement for the province, at a meeting in Calgary the other day. The Association is a subsidiary of the Canadian Pacific's Department of Immigration and Colonization.

Shipping Bees

With Greater Interest In Bee Keeping, Demand For Live Bees Is Necessary

With spring just around the corner the beekeeper's busy season is soon to start. In a pamphlet just issued by the Department of Agriculture, C. B. Gooderham, B.S.A., the Dominion Apiculturist, discusses the important problem of bee shipment, both how to package bees and how to handle them. Apiaries are being built up rapidly all over Canada, and the demand for live bees is increasing. Mr. Gooderham finds that the package and shipment of bees presents no substantial difficulty, successful shipments having been made across Canada and from Alabama to Ottawa.

The bee package, including a queen, weighs about two pounds and contains some 10,000 bees. Some reasonable safeguards are necessary to insure good results and Mr. Gooderham deals with these in his pamphlet.

Will Effect Great Saving

Beet Tops, Formerly Discarded, Are Rich In Sugar

Ten million dollars gained simply by shifting the position of an agricultural knife one and one-half inches—this is the latest offering of science to national wealth. Dr. Ernest Reed, professor of botany at Syracuse University, has questioned the belief that sugar is concentrated principally in the heart of a beet. In accord with this belief a practice in the west has been to send "toppers" through the beet fields, slicing off not only the leaves but also the supposedly barren top section. Through years of work, and by developing a new method of testing for sugar, Professor Reed says he has proved conclusively that the discarded tops are rich in sugar.

Gravity Comparisons

Decidedly Delicate Operation Involved In Connection With Pendulum

Measurements of the force of gravity at various points throughout the country are made by the Dominion Observatory, Ottawa. This involves the measurement of the period of a pendulum to one ten millionth part of a second—a decidedly delicate operation. Results of these investigations are intended to throw light on the nature of the upper layers of the earth's crust, and are closely related to geological formations and such processes as denudation and mountain-building.

Bournemouth, England, plans to have a trackless trolley system.

With the aid of the seismograph, the instrument which records the tremors of earthquakes, scientists are able to explore the interior of the earth to a depth of perhaps 2,000 miles. Dr. Bailey Willis, of Leland Stanford University said at the meeting of the Geological Society of America in the American Museum of Natural History, New York.

"Thus we know," Dr. Willis said, "that there are two parts of the earth: an envelope 2,000 miles thick which consists of elastic rock, and a core that is 2,000 miles in radius and apparently inelastic. The core is of heavy material, probably largely iron."

"The inelastic condition of the core is characteristic of melted substances. The core is exceedingly hot and it may be melted, but even so it must be an excessively sluggish, viscous body because of the pressure of the envelope, which rests upon the core with all its weight, something over twenty million pounds a square inch. Thus within is a heavy ball, which may be melted; around it is an envelope of heavy rock, and the outside skin on which we live consists in part of the basalts, in part of granites."

The centre of the earth, Dr. Willis explained, is a sort of heat engine, constantly diffusing its heat toward the outside skin. As it escapes from the innermost core the heat is unable to penetrate immediately through the outer envelope of heavy rock. Instead it is diffused sideways and forms, beneath the earth's surface, an immense blister several hundreds of miles across and twenty or more miles deep. These blisters, technically known as asthenoliths, are made up of a relatively light rock, granite and basalt, a heavier rock which contains a high proportion of iron.

From time to time one of these blisters' burst through to the surface and a new continent is formed. The granite, being lighter, floats up to form the continents as we know them. The heavy basalt, which, being heavier, cannot rise so far, makes the ocean bed.

"A blister requires perhaps several million years to grow," Dr. Willis said. "A very large number of eruptions, a great many asthenoliths and an enormous lapse of time must have been required to form Africa, Eurasia and the Americas in this way. Thus it is that though the same processes are being continued today beneath the earth's surface the human race may yet pursue its customary vocations unperturbed, for some millions of years probably will pass before either Europe or America is submerged beneath the ocean and new continents arise to take their places."

Western Manufacturing

Output Of Three Prairie Provinces In 1929 Establishes a Record

A manufacturing output of $350,000,000 is the 1929 achievement of the three Prairie Provinces of Canada in the field of industry, according to figures compiled by G. E. Carpenter, secretary of the prairie division of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association. The figure is a record one. The Association itself has made large strides in recent years in the province in question, the membership having risen from 50 in 1914 to 600 at present.

A SPRING SONG

The "winter of our discontent"
(as old Bill Shakespeare once said), is over, and we now welcome another spring—changeable and provoking though it so often proves. It can well be dubbed the season of contrasts. It is the time of bubbling youth, joy and mating happiness. It is also associated with coughs and chills, sulphur and molasses, fertilizers, seed catalogues and "suckers runnin' in the creeks." The air is filled with the sweet and cleanly smell of leaves and green grass, of blossoms and all sorts of growing things; also with the demands of our wives and daughters for new raiment.
The railway navy has burned the dead grass along the railway tracks in the country, and the town dweller has spaded up his backyard garden.
It is the time of fond hopes, of beautiful dreams and love. The wild strawberry will soon be ripening on the warm hillsides and the white hawthorn spreading its sweet fragrance in "the fields beyant." Down in the swamps Mr. and Mrs. Mosquito, just newly married, have commenced an intensive production campaign and millions of their dirty pesky little brats will soon be tormenting the lives and legs of those who "dwell near nature's heart." It is a season of strong extremes—of hot days and chilly nights—of bright sunshine and spring showers—of early snowdrops and occasional snow-storms—of the lilting liquid melodies of the song birds and the ribald raucous cries of the crows and grackles.
It is about the meanest, driest and most uncertain time of the year, but, darn its pesky hide—we like it because of its promise for more glorious days to come.

MY HOME TOWN FIRST

A creed for the home-loving citizen:
I buy at home—because my interests are there; because the community that is good enough for me to live in is good enough for me to buy in; because I believe in transacting business with my friends; because I want to get what I buy when I pay for it; because I want to see the goods; because every dollar I spend at home works for the community in which I live; because the man I buy from stands back of the goods; because I sell what I produce here at home; because here I live and here I buy; because the man I buy from pays his part of the town, provincial and Dominion taxes; because when ill luck, misfortune, bereavement comes, the man I buy from is here with his kindly greeting, his words of cheer and his pocketbook, if need be.

MRS. McKINLEY HONOREDThe women of the province are full of enthusiasm over their project of having the portrait of Mrs. McKinley painted and presented to the Legislative Building at Edmonton, and hope to have this accomplished before the end of this year. Mrs. McKinley has been chosen for this honor on account of the fact that she was the first woman to be elected to any Legislative Assembly in the British Empire, when in 1917 she was chosen to represent the constituency of Clares-holm.The arrangements are in charge of a committee of 23 women covering the province, and they are asking every woman in Alberta to subscribe to the fund. The honor of sending the first contribution belongs to the late Mrs. Barbara Cassels, formerly of Calgary, but then living in Edmonton, who sent a donation of five dollars and expressed her delight at knowing that the plan was under way.Mr. J. W. L. Forster, of Toronto, has been chosen as the artist, and he will no doubt produce a portrait which will be a fitting and lasting tribute to this well-beloved woman.Mrs. McKinley has lived in Alberta for over twenty years and in addition to her political activities, she has been a leader in social reform and church work.TALKIES!

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE SAYING

WHY NOT TELL THE PEOPLE

The Alberta legislature make many laws and introduce amendments to other laws, that make it rather difficult for the average man to keep in touch with the multitude of restrictions placed upon the statute books. Not long ago auto drivers' licenses were added to the list, and there are probably many people who are not aware of such a law. Threshers' licenses must be secured, shooting licenses must be paid for, and the farmer cannot even sell eggs direct to the consumer without infringing an Alberta law. It looks as if we are tremendously burdened with laws and restrictions that make it difficult to live a law-abiding life. However, with these laws included in our statute books, why not the government appraise the people of their laws by publishing a synopsis of same in the country newspapers.
As a consequence of the lack of publicity many law-abiding citizens are innocently violating the laws of the land. The sane way of advising the public of these new pieces of legislature is through the press of the province—Innisfail Province.

YOUR HEART AND INSURANCE

Weighing about five-eighths of a pound, and bulking about the size of the clenched fist, the heart is the central pump of the body, controlling the flow of its life stream. Beating at the normal rate of over seventy times a minute, the heart will pump five quarts of blood. Often it is beating faster and pumping twenty quarts a minute.

Isn't it worth a little thought and care to see that such a hard-working engine is treated fairly?

One out of every three who are rejected for life insurance is refused because of a serious heart defect.

How is YOUR heart?
Many of the signs which you may think mean heart disease can be caused by some other disorder. Indigestion, lung trouble and nervousness may cause a pain near your heart, shortness of breath, fainting and irregularity of beat. If you suffer any of these, go at once to your doctor for an examination. He may tell you that you do not have heart trouble and will find out what is wrong.

If you do have something wrong with your heart, it is well to know it at an early stage when proper care may bring your heart back to health. In many cases heart trouble is curable. It has been said that the surest recipe for living to an old age is to find out that you have a disease and then take care of it. The wise habits of living that the early recognition of heart trouble brings are good for the entire body.

The main causes of organic heart disease are rheumatism, certain contagious disease of childhood, diphtheria, scarlet fever, etc., syphilis and improper habits of living.

No one else can do as much for your heart as you can. Keep it healthy by going to your doctor for that annual examination, by looking after infected tonsils or teeth, by eating the right foods, by taking the proper amount of exercise, by keeping body weight near to the normal, and by NOT over using tobacco or stimulants.

Health literature may be obtained from the Red Cross Society, 407 Civic Block, Edmonton, Alta.

CORRESPONDENCE

Dear Editor,

Entering one of the Cafes on Wednesday afternoon of last week, a local farmer was very much surprised, when he asked for a half-dozen oranges and a bottle of grape juice for a patient in the hospital, to receive a reply that he would have to get a special permit from the mayor or attorney before he could make the purchase, Wednesday being the weekly half-holiday. This action, he thinks very inconsiderate on the merchants part.

How would they like it if we farmers took a weekly half holiday and failed to deliver our produce in town the following day? Why not close the Crystal dairy on Wednesday afternoon so the town patrons would be on the same level as the farmers?

Another reason that the stores should be open on Wednesday afternoons is that the same day is Hog Market day and many outlying farmers would take this opportunity of obtaining their weekly supply of groceries, thereby saving an extra journey into town.

We do not object to this half-holiday throughout a few summer months, but fail to see why this foolish practice should continue during the farmers busy season and winter months. This encourages "Outside Buying" and does not line up with the slogan—"Support the home-town merchants and build up your home-town."

A LOCAL EARNER.

Tuxis Boy's Minstrels.

The Minstrel Show which was put on by the Didsbury Tuxis Boys was very well attended, and a much larger crowd would have been present if it had not been such a stormy day. The audience seemed to be well pleased with the show, judging from the laughs and applause and also from remarks made about it since. The boys taking part were—Ormond Phillipson, Alf Durrer, Pete Booker, Carlton Leeson, Albert McLaurie, Ross Ford, J. Boorman, Kenneth Burns, George Hawkes, Ronald McRae, Norman Honey, Charlie Geiger, Frank Riddell and Tom Clarke. The Boys wish to thank the people of Didsbury for their patronage and also take this opportunity of thanking the orchestra for the musical selections they contributed.

The best way to "be prepared" is to have a reserve fund of money in the bank.

How Lincoln Became Lawyer

Took Up Study After Defending Himself in Court Case

Abraham Lincoln's success in using the law in his own defense, was declared by Quin O'Brien, Chicago attorney, as the circumstance that decided Lincoln to become a lawyer. O'Brien spoke at a Lincoln meeting.

Recently found records were quoted by the speaker as revealing that Lincoln had been arrested for operating an unlicensed ferry boat on the Ohio River. Of necessity he interested himself in law to defeat the charge and later became a law student in earnest.

Retains Lead In Passenger Traffic

Cunard and Associated Lines' Atlantic Bookings in 1929 Were 265,734

For the seventh consecutive year the Cunard and Associated Lines carried, during 1929, a larger number of passengers across the Atlantic than any other steamship line or group of lines, according to a statement made by Arthur Randles, general passenger manager for Canada of the Cunard and Anchor-Donaldson lines.

Statistics of the passenger traffic for last year revealed the fact that Cunard and its Associated Lines carried a total of 265,734 passengers on their regular transatlantic sailings.

Of this large number a total of 65,510 passengers were carried by the Canadian service liners, 20,097 on Anchor-Donaldson steamers, and 45,413 on Cunard Canadian service liners.

Of the total carried by our lines, the Cunard Line accounted for 208,185, and the Anchor Line, 45,511," said Mr. Randles. "Not included in these figures are 5,232 carried on Cunard Cruises, 11,264 in the Cunard's Havana service for 1929; also 1,959 on the Anchor Line cruises, and several smaller categories, which raise the grand total of all passengers carried to 286,197. This total incidentally represented an aggregate increase of 17,030 over the 269,167 carried in 1928."

"A survey of the travel prospects in our various departments, first-class, second-class, cabin, tourist third cabin and third-class, leads us to the conclusion that if the present rate of booking is maintained through spring and summer, the Cunard Line and its Associated Lines will experience a good year," Mr. Randles stated.

A Real Economy

New Yorkers pay $160,000,000 a year to ride in the city's 25,000 taxicabs, reports a writer in World's Work. But huge as that sum may seem, the taxicab is a real economy for the New Yorker of the class which would own its own cars in smaller cities. On account of high rentals, lack of parking space and traffic congestion, it is estimated that the cost of maintaining an automobile and chauffeur in the city is $5,000 annually.

Edmonton Spring Show

Children's Calf Feeding Competition Is Attracting Much Interest

In order to give all children residing in farm homes an opportunity to become conversant with the many special classes put on for them at the Edmonton Spring Show, to be held from April 8 to 12, and particularly the special encouragement given to amateur exhibitors, letters and prize lists were sent to every school north of Red Deer. A number of teachers have written in that the children have been quite interested and excited, and it is expected that the many changes adopted with an eye to improving the 1930 Children's Calf Feeding competitions will result in a largely increased entry.

It has been felt by the directors for some time that when once a child has succeeded in feeding a calf to the point where it can win first prize in this competition, it is only fair that some one else should have an opportunity to win this prize the next year, in order that the benefits of the first prize might be distributed a little, and this year all those who have previously won first prizes are barred from again competing. The district prizes offered by the Edmonton Stock Yards have also been divided into three prizes for each district, instead of one, which will also give greater encouragement to the amateur exhibitors in those districts which have not the same high quality of livestock as some of the districts which have been settled for a longer time.

Smothering Spells Couldn't Walk Far Gaped For Breath

which I did, and in a short time I felt much better.

What Canada Has Done

Dominion Has Given Many Valuable Things To World

The following are a few things that can be verified by existing historical records:

1. Canada built and sent the first steam boat across the Atlantic.
2. Canada built and demonstrated the first compound steam engine in the history of the world. The effect of this invention was the doom of the sailing ship as a factor in ocean commerce.
3. Canada built and demonstrated the first submarine telegraph in the history of the world.
4. Canada built and demonstrated the first railway sleeping cars.
5. Canada originated the idea of making paper from wood pulp.
6. Canada demonstrated the first practical electric railway in the history of the world.
7. Canada built the world's first electric stove.
8. Canada originated the idea of electric heating.
9. Canada pioneered in the field of electro-chemistry with the discovery of calcium carbide of Tom Wilson, of Hamilton.
10. Canada originated the idea of Standard Time, which has since been adopted by every civilized country in the world.
11. Canada originated the idea of the panoramic camera.
12. Canada originated Marquis and other more recent wheats, which have built up the commerce of the west, both in Canada and the United States.
13. Canada first isolated helium in commercial quantities.
14. The idea of the telephone originated in Canada and the first long-distance trials of the instrument were made between Paris and Brantford.
15. Canada gave to the world the idea of the all-electric radio.
16. Insulin is of too recent date to require more than mention in this list.

Jails To Spare

Huge Decrease In Crime In Great Britain Is Noted

Britain's criminals are one class which seems to be travelling on the road which leads to gradual extinction. While the criminal "dole," as the prisons' appropriations might be termed, is decreasing, the government today finds itself embarrassed by a superfluity of prisons and military barracks.

Maldstone jail, which is to be closed shortly, is the twenty-seventh institution of its kind to disappear since 1914. Since that year—memorable as the outbreak of the war—the prison population of the United Kingdom has declined by 70 per cent.

The surplus of military barracks arises partly from reduction of the forces and partly because the scheme of army organization today calls for the concentration of troops in definite training areas, rather than their housing in different parts of the country. It is doubtful if the great Sheffield barracks will ever be occupied again; that is, unless there should arise emergency conditions.

Like many similar institutions, the Sheffield barracks were built about the time when industrialism, still a new phase, was coming to its full strength in the north of England. Such barracks, for the most part are veritable fortresses, designed then with the idea of providing refuge in times of civil disturbance.

The suggestion has been made in parliament that London's two principal prisons—Wandsworth and Pentonville—should be razed and housing areas for the working class substituted.

DO YOU SUFFER FROM CONSTIPATION?

Countless remedies are advertised for constipation. Many relieve for the moment but they are habit forming and must be continued. Others contain calomel and dangerous mineral drugs, which remain in the system, settle in the joints and cause aches and pains. Some are harsh purgatives which cramp and gripe and leave a depressed after effect. Avoid lubricating oils which only grease the intestines and encourage nature's machinery to become lazy.

A purely vegetable laxative such as Carter's Little Liver Pills, gently touches the liver, bile starts to flow, the bowels move gently, the intestines are thoroughly cleansed and constipation poisons pass away. The stomach, liver and bowels are now active and the system enjoys a real tonic effect. All druggists 25c and 75c red pkgs.

he began from the top of the ladder, when a step sounded on the sidewalk, and John Carter appeared in the wide doorway.

CHAPTER V.

Jim stopped in the middle of this important sentence, glared down upon the new doctor, while Charmian uttered a relieved: "Oh, it's you! I thought you'd gone with Doctor Howe."

"And I thought I told you not to touch this place; but I see you've secured help. That's fine. I—"

So he supposed she had hired Jim! This appalling thought swept through Charmian's brain. If Jim guessed he'd be furious, and a foe to John Carter for the rest of his natural life. With haste born of real consternation she interrupted: "Indeed, I have! Jim Bennett was good enough to offer his assistance in lifting down those heavy books. Have you two been properly introduced? Jim, this is Doctor Carter, our new boarder. Jim's an old chum of mine, Doctor. He used to carry my books to school for me and fight my battles. You ought to be friends."

The young man on the step ladder looked the reverse of friendly at just that moment, but he descended, and reluctantly, gripped the hand which the doctor had extended.

"I was only giving Charmian a little help," he explained, somewhat breathlessly; and added, a belligerent note, creeping into his voice, "this is no sort of work for a girl, it seems to me."

"You're right, Miss Davis will tell you that I told her not to touch it. I expected to go with Doctor Howe this morning; but when I told him of this scheme for an office he gave me the day off. He thought it a great idea, and I'll say I'm in luck! I'll get some old clothes and be back in a jiffy to pitch in."

"Well," began Jim, removing the duster and reaching for his neatly folded coat, "you won't need me now so I'll run along. I—suppose you see an awful lot of that fellow, Charmian?"

Charmian was obliged to conceal a smile of triumph at this evidence that Miss Darling was not omnipotent.

"I eat three meals a day with him," she answered. "Later on, if I get the school, he'll have his dinners at the hotel."

"It makes me hot—your cooking meals for him," confessed Jim, as he slipped into his coat.

"What nonsense!" laughed Charmian. "Can't a body take a boarder without making you look like a thunderstorm? Wipe that scowl off, Jim! It's not becoming. You're ever so much nicer when you smile. Say! if you've got time, run in and speak to Grandma, won't you? She gets lonesome, sitting there so long; and why not step in tonight and go along to the festival with us, Jimmy? I'd like to have you, honest injun, cross my throat and hope to die," as we used to say."

This was reward of merit for his offered help; but Jim answered, a sarcastic twist to his lips that was something new: "Seems to me I've heard somewhere that three's a crowd. Thanks, my dear, but I know enough not to butt in where I'm not wanted."

"As far as I'm concerned," began Charmian, knowing that down inside he was really hurt, but John Carter's untimely entrance interrupted what was intended for a soothing speech, and with a smothered "Damn," that wasn't really so smothered as it should have been, Jim took his departure.

The doctor gave vent to an expressive whistle as he watched the young man's muscular figure move stiffly across the gravel driveway.

"Your friend seems not to like me," he ventured ruefully.

"Give him time," smiled Charmian.

He's slightly irritated this morning because he'd planned to escort me to the strawberry festival tonight and you've cut him out!"

"He is, I take it, the man who has recently been enamored of a green hat?"

"The same," admitted Charmian, showing a bewitching dimple. "But now let's get to work. If you'll take Jim's place on the ladder we can accomplish wonders before I have to start dinner."

Meanwhile Jim Bennett had crossed the strip of lawn and walked in on Grandma, who was watching with interest the struggle of two small boys over a stick of candy, which drama was taking place on the opposite sidewalk.

"There!" she exclaimed, with a nod of welcome, "they've broken it all to bits, and serve 'em right for being piggish. I don't like that Eldridge boy. He's always picking on the younger ones. Well, Jim, you're quite a stranger. Sit down. How happens it you're loafing this morning? And you've got a new suit, too. Stand up and turn around. It certainly does set well. Did you see Charmian? She's cleaning Father Davis's office for the doctor. Well, what's the news?"

"News?" echoed Jim. "There never is any—in Wickfield."

"No news!" said Grandma indignantly. "There's a plenty, if only you keep your eyes open. Not a day passes, Jimmy, but I see something interesting going on, right under this window. Seven times this fortnight I've seen a young man ride by in an automobile with the brightest green hat beside him, that ever I laid eyes on. Lizzie Baker says it's sinful—the hat, I mean; but Charmian says it's becoming. What do you think about it, sonny?"

Within His Rights

According to a German judge, a person temporarily deranged is within his rights in attempting suicide; from which it would appear that it's perfectly all right to jump from a twelfth-story window or to throw yourself in front of a train, if you happen to be really crazy about it.

KEEP THEM HAPPY BY KEEPING THEM WELL

It is natural for children to be happy, active and full of fun. When they are fretful, fussy and disinclined to play you may be sure something is wrong. Almost invariably that something lies in the digestive tract.

It is to meet the need for an absolute safe corrective of childhood ailments that Baby's Own Tablets have been designed. They gently regulate the stomach and bowels, and thus drive out constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fevers and allay teething pains. Concerning them Mrs. W. E. Forsyth, Dover, N.B., writes: "I would not be without Baby's Own Tablets as I know of nothing to equal them for fretful, fussy babies who are troubled with colds or sour stomach."

Baby's Own Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
